

Queen-We are the champions:

face / all / lose / crime / end / race / cruise / few / call / friend / through / time / dues / thank / champions

I've paid my, ... after

I've done my sentence, but committed no

And bad mistakes, I've made a

I've had my share of sand kicked in my

But I've come

We are the, my

And we'll keep on fighting to the

We are the champions (x2)

No time for losers 'cos

We are the champions of the world.

I've taken my bows and my curtain

You've brought me fame and everything that goes with it; I you
.....,

But it's been no bed of roses, no pleasure

I consider it a challenge

Before the whole human race -

And I ain't gonna

Queen are a British rock band formed in London in 1971, originally consisting of Freddie Mercury (lead vocals, piano), Brian May (guitar, vocals), John Deacon (bass guitar), and Roger Taylor (drums, vocals). Queen's earliest works were heavily influenced by progressive rock; in the mid-1970s, the band ventured into more conventional and radio-friendly works, bringing them greater commercial success. Later they incorporated more diverse and innovative styles in their music, exploring the likes of gospel music, electronic music and funk.

Brian May and Roger Taylor had been playing together in a band named Smile. Freddie Mercury was a fan of Smile, and encouraged them to experiment with more elaborate stage and recording techniques. Mercury himself joined the band shortly thereafter, changed the name of the band to 'Queen'.

Queen enjoyed success in the UK during the early 1970s, but it was the release of Sheer Heart Attack (1974) and A Night at the Opera (1975) that gained the band international success. The latter featured "Bohemian Rhapsody" stayed at number one in the UK charts for nine weeks. In 1991 Mercury died of bronchopneumonia, a complication of AIDS, and Deacon retired in 1997. Since then May and Taylor have infrequently performed together, including a collaboration with Paul Rodgers under the name Queen + Paul Rodgers.

The band has released a total of 18 number one albums, 18 number one singles and 10 number one DVDs, and have sold over 300 million albums worldwide, making them one of the world's best-selling music artists. They were inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 2001.
